DISHOP CLARIOS PASTORAL.

We have received a copy of the Pastora Letter recently issued by Bishop Clark to the derry and laity of the diocese of Rhod Island, and have given it a studious perusal The document forms a pumphlet of half a dozen pages, and discusses a question of diselpline and ductrine growing out of the recent exchange of pulplis upon the part of Rev. Mr. Hubbard, rector of an Episcopa' Church at Westerly, with Rev. Mr. Deulson, paytor of a Baptist church in that town,-The exchange was made by Mr. Hubbard. who decided in this manner to show his recognition of the ministry of denominations other than his own. Bishop Clark, in his pastoral letter, reproved this set of Mr. Hubbard's, as being a violation of establish ed usages and principles; and proceeds to set furth the constitution and canon's of the church as related to the subject.

It becomes us, as a secular fournal, to speak with diffidence of a matter of this ant; for it does not come within our provluce to Judge of strictly ecclesiastical questions, or to become partisans in a denominational discussion. Yet, as this incident, taking place in our State, has produced unusual local interest, and has arouse d considgrable discussion in the press of the country and endeavor as impartial historians to set before our readers the present condition . 1 fact of Mr. Hubbard's exchange has significance, apart from the ecclesiastical ques tions involved; and, in these questions all protestants are interested, as well as tho denomination to which the Hishop and his Presbyler, now in conflict, belong.

The letter of Bishop Clark opens by saying that an emergency has arisen which demands that he should address the members of his diocese. He then quotes the 23rd Ar ticle, concerning "Ministering in the Congregation," and explains, both by the teaching of the preface to the ordination service, the Canon, and the constitution of the church tast this orticle forbids any person to exer else ministry in the church, unless he has received Episcopal ordination. The History then argues that the same Articles forbid, also, that any minister of other denomina tions should officiate even occasionally in an Episcopal church; for, in such case, the minister during the time of his official ser vice is to all intent invested with power to perform the functions which the regular ministers of the Episcopal church are com missioned to discharge. Further considerations are thus urged, upon the growth of expediency and practical results, to show that it is heat and necessary for the Episcopal church to refuse to open its chancel or pulpit to any minister who has not received Episcopal ordination. The letter closes with an admirable appeal for peace and unity, and an exhartation, if any modification in the system is desired, to wait till it can be $9,3000. effected in due course of legislation and by those who have authority to act.

The whole tone of Hishop Clark's letter is temperate and affectionate. It argues, in a calm and kind spirit, the whole ecclusinstical question, proceeding step by stop in logical manner; and, if we admit prom ises, we do not see how we can avoid bla conclusions. It is just here, however, that Mr. Hubbard wakes an issue with his Bishop, by interpreting in a different manner the article and canen of his church concerning the ministry. It is not for us, who stand outside the pale of the Episcopal church, to pronounce judgment between the Bishop and his Presbyter concerning their conflicting views of ecclesiastical law and usage. This much, however, we may say without hesttation, that no person can studiously read this pastoral letter of Bishop Clark without admiring the generous method in which he conducts his argument, and appreciating the considerate kindness with which he treats the whole subject. The letter does not contain a word of bitterness, of invective, or of, denunciation. By his very official position the Bishop is shut up to the necessity of disapproving Mr. Hubbard's act; but he man by whose friends he was paid £120 a does so in a manner which must win the year, was confined through the winter in a esteem of every just mind, and entitle him back kitchen, with a rollen mattress and to the regard of persons of all denomina- no other covering than a bit of old carpet. tions. In this, Bishop Clark has added to a He was fined £200 and six menths' knreputation already established as being a prisonment, churchman of generous and entholic spirit, and shows that he is not unworthy the diocese of Rhode Island, where mutual toleration and religious fellowship has ever been practiced.

True, we suspect the popular verilies, so far as the mere question of pulpit exchanging is concerned, will be upon the side of Mr.

certain form of Episcopal ordination. Many [there are who tidak that a close pulpit, and a close communion table, to a securitar age now happily disappearing; and who hall with gladness every token of the Treating to represent this city in the General Assemdown of the partition walls, and the coming into close unison, in the fold of the Good Shepherd, all who are members of the tredeemed flock. In any event, may a spirit of hely fellowship and love prevail !

The Sucression, The Washington correspondent of the Boston Post says : A question of some pragnitude and one of special interest to the Hon. Ben Wasie, President protein, of the Senate, is now heliog privately discussed intong Rudleal Congressmen of the anti-Wale stripe. The sixth section of the second article of the Canalitudes says the Constructions are or the section of the second affice of the Constitution says that Congress may by law provide for the case of the removal, death or resignation or inability both of the President and Vice President, declaring what officer shall then act as President, e.e. The guestion, as now raised by those opposed to Mr. Wade, is whether the President providence of the Sanata is such as afficience. to Mr. Wade, is whether the conflict as is tem, of the Senate is such an officer as is contemplated by the Constitution. It is contemplated by the Constitution in it is contemted by them that, the officer unist be an officer of the United States and mat an officer merely of the Senate or House of Representatives. This same question was rulsed in the winter of 1799 and was debated during the entire session, without an decision. The same discussion was continued in 1794, when Mr. Madison, then a member of the House of Representatives, spoke and voted against the proposition that an ottoer of either House of Congress was eligible to the Decisioners under the days of the ble to the Presidency under the clusse of the Constitution quoted above. The hill as in came from the Senate, passed the House by came from the Senate, passed the House by a majority of only one vote, Mr. Mad'son voting against it. The hostility to Mr. Wade in the Radical earny is very great, and no stone will be left unturned to prevent his reaching the Presidential chair. It is a fact that eminent counsel have been consulted. Hon, Reverdy Johnson has given the opinion that the President pro tenn of the Senate is such an officer as contemplated by the Constitution, and hat this opinion Judge Woodward fully concurs. Yet the question

General Assemble during the present session has awakened greater interest in that looks, for it of layer importance to the State, therethe Tax Bill which was introduced by Judge Orcene of Warwick and proved to a vote on Wednesday. As it is a matter in which every tax paper is interested, we give the report of the discussion proceeding its adoption as found in the Providence Press of Wednesday and Thursday.

now a member of the General Assembly, Hermites of the State. The bill provides for and Dr. Turner was unanimously elected a tax of thirty critis on each one hundred dollars of the valuation of ratable property of the State. The bill gives the valuation of the several forms and edites which is to be the basis of the tax provided for Judge Greene said that the bill was introduced at the last May Session, at which fine it was proposed to make the fax forty cents on each one hundred dollars. But the increase in the valuation of 1866 over that of 1860 will afford a sufficient for eme by a tax of thirty cents,

The total valuation of the State made is 1867 was $158,189,180; calimiton of 1866, which is the basis for invalid provided in the present bill is $487,697,581, on, showing an increase of $19,503,001,000, showing an increase of $19,503,002,001.

The valuation of Providence in 1560 was $06,118,500. Judge Greene made companisors in the relative valuations of other towns. This I'm intended to correct the inequalities of the different towns and it the tholerance, the different towns, and it takes their own value attents as the basis for assusation, the small towns stake from the precious incomplities of valueries. There is a great amount of poor land very improductive, but generally estimated beyond its real value. The valuation of 1800 were not fine that the former of the State, but in the interest of the State, but in the interest of the state of the st nade with reference to State valuation, but for the use of the towns and cities, and are as near correct as we can probably get at them. Of course it is impossible to make a perfect valuation of the property in the State, but he exclaimed that the sufest basis was that made by the towns.

Mr. Weeden, of Westerly, said that one of the richest towns in this State (Little Compton) has reduced 49 valuation below 1865 some $7,000. Had the fown of South Kingstown has increase its valuation some $7 per cent., while there has been very Ethle if any increase of property.

This is an illustration of the inferted form of valuation which prescribed in many of the towns. And nine-tenths of this mercus ed valuation between the collations of 1800 and 1800 is much of same Airat. The said that it was absurd that the valuation of the State should have increased in Three years upwards of $40,009,000. He elaba-ed that the whole bill showed the necessity of some such system of taxation as that embodied in the bill which he presented a few days since. He moved to substitute for the bill before the House the hill introdiscut by him, entitled an Act to ascertain the valuation property of the State and to obtain a noticine valuation thereof oblain a tradicine valuation thereof.

The motion being seconded, Mr. Werdsen said that the only objection to his bill is that if is new. This objection might apply to every law that has ever here passed by the Graeral Assembly. A new system was demanded by the exigences of the tions. The bill remains of the tions. the assuranced of the exagences of the times. The bill requires every man to show the State Assessors what property he has, and let them put a valuation upon it. The present system forces a man, for self-protection, to be distanced. He knows that notify every one else will leard in a distance statement, and will be admindishoust statement, and will thus clual the town. And if the hands in as honed the town. And if the hands in as honed statement, the town will cheat han, Heery man, rich and poor, should be assessed upon his actual property. No matter what opinion he may express upon the valuation of his praperty, he has nothing to do with that. That is not hand to do with that. with that. That is to be determined by competent, impartial Assessors. The state has too long clung to the old system,

State has tee long coing to the out system; and it is thus it was done away with.

Mr. Davis, of Newport, sail that lethought that it was evident something should be done to equalize the taxation of the different forms, and he thought it would be impossible to adjust this matter until a uniform basis was observed throughout the State. The booked upon the Lift reported by the content to each interest for State. To hooked upon the bill reported by the committee as heiry so far from meeting this evil, that it only tende I to argravate it. The bill presented by the gratheman from Westerly (Mr. Weelen) was objectionable, as being ton comberence. It would take any man or set of men three years to necessarish the work there believe a threat transfer. mish the work three laid out. it was the interest and splitt of the General Assembly to make a clauge in the valuation:

ubstituted. thistunet.

If provides that a Board of State Assistors shall be appointed by the General Assembly who shall examine the termina of the Assessurs of the several towns and ri-ties for the year 1866, to examine the basis on a basis common to the whole State; and to report at the next May session.

Mr. Davis then preceeded to extinct the till of Judge Greene showing the different med a cf valuation that prevailed in the sec-eral towns and asking the appointment of a omanission through which the State Taxes taight be distributed on a Lasis common to the whole State.

Mr. Gardoer of Providence, said that by Art, thather of trovalence, shat that by the bill reported by the committee, there is an increase in the voltation of the State since 160d, of nearly $5a,6c0,6c0. But what is the condition of the Save,—basis through the mutia for speculation during a few years past. There is no necessity for an increase the rate of scientific mutia for speculation during a few years past. There is no necessity for an increase the rate of scientific. We can increase the rate of tax, but it is unjust to take this inflated valuation of 1806. We want a national constraint of scientific and the scientific of scheme form basis of valcation, and the system pro-posed by the gentlemen from Newport (Mr.

Mr. Sha filed of New york, objected strong by to the bill before the House, considering it a crude and regist measure. He favored the appointment of a joint special commit-ing to consider this whole subject of laxaon and to report some well advised to the next session of the deacral Assem-

Mr. Davis of North Providence, said that in his town the assessment was pressed-ep to the highest mark. We do not always get men of good sound judgement and hon-est purposes, and that is a great difficulty in the way of adopting Judge Greene's bill. There is no equity or justice in the bill. And it is the dety of the Assembly, if there has not been a right valuation, to appoint a committee to devise a unitora and just be is of valuation,

Mr. Perry of Bristol, said he could not one may fatter plan than to take that basis for valuation which the citizens of the owns themselves have selected. He was own a measures have selected. He was opposed to the appointment of a commissioner as suggested by the gentleman from North Provilence.

prehended the bill before it, and looked upon it, not in the interest of the State, but in the interest of the several towns. He favored the admindment offered by the gentleman from Cranaton (Mr. Ingalls.) It takes the from Cranston (Mr. Ingall-,) It takes the valuation of each year by itself, and acts upon that one year after another, until the House shall otherwise determine. In the ity of Newporta valuation was fixed in 1566 upon a basis altogether inflated. that time men were excited by speculation and offerly until to make a valuation for that year, or one for any State purposes. fanal was held at highly speculative rates, and went down as soon as that fever subsided. This was not the case with Newport alone. But in Providence the land-Whomasquatucket, the Seekonk, were assessed at more than its actual value. The same rule applied to North Providence, in a recitain extent to South Kington, and to other texts of the State. During the year Tree; but however exhable it is, its power to head, 1866, there was a tremendous inflation in many of the towns. In other towns the many of the fowns. In other towns the byscheddle and Jadicinas combination with other valuation had remained the same for many byscheddle and Jadicinas combination with other years, and this was because there was no ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This spicolation there. They were purely agreement in themselves of equal worth. I training towns and did not consider that happy stingling exists to a remarkable degree in their lands were increased in value by this induiting and speculation of 1866. The city whose rathe in cating Cought, Cells, Reaching, of Newport has a permanent population of 12,000. To take the bill proposed by the 12,000. To take the bill proposed by the gentleman from Warwick (Judge Greene) [loo, and Institute Consumption is inestimable, entheman from Watwick (Judge Greene) in would make an increase above the average of $10,000 in the taxes to be paid by the population of 12,000,—nearly a far rapide of one dollar on each inhabitant of that city. This tax beats as heavily on the poor as it does on the rich, and beats on them very wrongly. In the value to the poor as it does on the rich, and beats on them very wrongly. In the value is of 1866 property was not appraised in Neaport at its actual value, either at its value in gold or currency. Property has depreciated and it will never regain the value it had in that year. The proposition become the House simply asks that a board of appraisers be appointed to take the results for the House simply asks that a board of appraisers be appointed to take the results for the House simply asks that a board of appraisers be appointed to take the results and value of the House simply asks that a board of appraisers be appointed to take the results and value of the House simply asks that a board of appraisers be appointed to take the results and value of the House simply asks that a board of appraisers be appointed to take the results and value of the House simply asks that a board of appraisers be appointed to take the results and value of the House simply asks that a board of appraisers be appointed to take the results and value of the House simply asks that a board of appraisers be appointed to take the results and value of the results and th tion to the House, And yet with no causes, other than local prejudices we are attempting to establish a monstrous prece-
